S GIVEN OF VARIOUS LOCAL UNITS

STATEMENTS OF ORGANIZATION PRINCIPLES WERE GIVEN.

CLURE GAVE ADDRESS

on "American Democracy,"

auditorium of the Greencastle School, Thursday evening, under the auspices of Earl Fisk Camp, V., a symposium of brief statements were given, whose central theme was the aims of the various organizations of America represented in Greencastle and social life. There were these statements of organization principles, the speakers being: Evans, Grace Browning, Tucker, Wilbur S. Donner, Brown, Paul F. Boston, Betty Virginia Harrold, and G. McClure. These were followed by Dr. McClure, in an address shortened in length because of lack of time. The invocation was given by Chaplain Oscar S. L. Raphael.

et was given in which the speakers were Mrs. John Cartwright, Mrs. Frank Donner, Mrs. Harrold, Mrs. Cecil Brown, D. James, Mrs. Esther Snider, Mrs. Lyle Green, Mrs. Bert and Miss Urdine Cox.

These were followed by Dr. C. M. McClure, whose address, on "American Democracy," was shortened because of the lateness of the hour.

musical numbers were splendidly rendered by the Greencastle school band, under the direction of Bergethon.

program was closed by an address by Dr. C. M. McClure. He spoke on "American Democracy."

ant to think for a few minutes along on "American Democracy" conceived by our progenitors as a system of government operating for the mastery in the world. These three are democracy, socialism and communism. Where are to be found speculation about the course of human affairs, the question is raised as to whether these systems are likely to live in a great democracy. We think our form of government will prevail. What does it mean? When one speaks of democracy, he may mean either of things; political, social or industrial. By political democracy we mean a system of government under which the people have the right to vote, to select their officers to express their opinions freely and to decide upon governmental policy. Social democracy we mean a community where there is a tightly drawn class line; a where people are respected because of their merit, rather than because of their birth or wealth; where one moves easily from one social position to another. An industrial democracy is a country or place where people are about equal in industrial power where every one has a chance to hold property, where people decide how industries shall be run and how the income shall be distributed.

democracy we have in mind to-day is political democracy. That is the system which prevails in the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, and the Scandinavian countries, and a number of other nations. No political democracy is a system where people are not equal in ability and where they are more influential than others. They are not equal in government. About half of the voters in the United States fail to go to the polls and that complete democracy does not exist in any form. We may say nevertheless, that government is democratic if it is elected by the people. We may say, if they have the legal right to elect their officers, and if they have complete freedom of discussion, that is the exception rather than the rule. We may say, that political democracy has not tried out quite consistently in this country.

now consider the way democracy works in practice. Does it mean a form of government for its people than other forms of government do? Certainly it does mean something for them. It does mean freedom for the individual. It means private citizens to go and do things for themselves.

CORN BELT LIBERTY LEAGUE ORGANIZES UNIT IN ILLINOIS

MONMOUTH, Ill., May 5.—(UP)—The Corn Belt Liberty League, sponsoring a "revolt" against the government crop control program, organized a unit last night among farmers of west central Illinois.

Five hundred farmers crowded into the Warren county courthouse to hear League President Tilden Burg, Sciota, Ill., protest corn acreage allotments of the agricultural adjustment administration and what he called "regimentation" of farmers.

Toward the end of the meeting, after the delegates had ratified by acclamation a resolution condemning crop control, I. N. Willis, Monmouth township investigator for the AAA, stood up and began a defense of the crop program. He sat down when his voice was drowned by boos and shouts from the audience.

Secession Is Church Threat

SOUTHERN METHODIST OPPOSE UNIFICATION OF SOUTH WITH NORTH.

What appears to be a see-rooted, permanent rebellion of a large group of Southern Methodists opposing the unification of the Southern division of Methodism with the Northern, has crystallized into threats of a secession of a number of these opponents of unification, estimated at 30,000, which has promised to "preserve the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, forever."

This layman movement came to a head after the great mass of the Southern Methodists pledged loyalty to the unified church, following a formal action by the Southern General Conference advocating the merging.

The last quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, as now constituted, adjourned Thursday after pledging loyalty to the unified church made possible by action of this body.

A group of Southern Methodists who were among those previously fighting the "plan of union" arose near the close of the general conference to pledge support to "the Methodist Church," the denomination of approximately 8,000,000 adherents to be created by merging of the Southern branch with the Methodist Episcopal (North) and Methodist Protestant churches.

In Atlanta, however, an attorney for organized laymen who opposed union of North and South churches, split by a Negro slavery dispute in 1844, mapped a civil court test of the general conference's vote for unification. The vote, 434 to 34, was upheld by the highest Southern Methodist ecclesiastical judiciary.

HICKS IS PUT TO DEATH AT STATE PRISON

PAYS FOR "HEAD AND HANDS" KILLING OF HARRY MILLER OF CINCINNATI

FOURTH TO DIE FOR SLAYING

Three Others Executed in the Same Chair Last Summer; Admitted Their Guilt

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 6.—(UP)—Heber L. Hicks, 40, was electrocuted early today at the state penitentiary for the "head and hands" murder of Harry Miller, retired Cincinnati fire department captain.

He was the fourth man executed for the slaying. John Joseph Poholsky, Frank Gore Williams and William A. Kuhlman were electrocuted in the same chair last summer.

They admitted their guilt after having been convicted. They confessed that Hicks had been their leader in a plot to kill Miller and obtain his $150,000 savings.

The elderly victim was beaten and shot to death at his summer home near Trenton, Ind., June 11, 1936. His head and hands were severed and tossed into a lake near Carrollton, Ky. His torso was disposed of in a culvert near Eminence, Ky. Skillful detective work brought recovery of his remains.

Hicks was arrested first. He had been chauffeur and close friend of Miss Flora Miller, eccentric, spinster sister of the victim. Weeks later, Poholsky, a former Pennsylvania coal miner, was seized at Warren, O. Williams and Kuhlman were captured on the west coast.

They said they had learned Miss Miller would inherit her brother's money and that Hicks, on the basis of her friendship, planned to steal it from her.

Hick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hicks of Cincinnati, visited him yesterday. They returned home last night after they had made arrangements for his burial at their former home in Kentucky.

He went to his death resignedly. Failure of one of two attending physicians to bring his stethoscope to the death chamber delayed the execution five minutes. Hicks finally was pronounced dead at 12:14 a. m. CST.

He lost his last chance of escaping death early yesterday when Gov. M. Clifford Townsend refused to intervene. The governor said he could not overrule the Supreme court of the United States, the state Supreme court and the judge and jury which had found Hicks guilty.

STATE REPUBLICAN PARTY CONFRONTED WITH BATTLE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 6.—(UP)—The Republican state committee will be confronted with a battle over the selection of a secretary when it meets to reorganize next Wednesday, the United Press was reliably informed today.

James Slane of Lafayette, the present secretary of the state committee, is up for reappointment after serving for approximately a year after replacing Harry Fenton of Indianapolis.

It is reported that there is a disposition among committee members to retire Slane and appoint in his place Neil McCallum of Batesville, secretary of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.

Other than this contest, there is reported to be general agreement among Republican leaders that other officers will be retained without argument. Archie N. Bobbitt of Indianapolis, former state auditor who was named G. O. P. state chairman last December, is regarded as very competent and thoroughly devoted to the interests of the party.

TRIBUTE PAID TO HITLER BY ITALIAN ARMY

SIXTY THOUSAND MEN AND BOYS MARCH IN ROME IN HONOR OF DICTATOR

SECOND OF THREE DISPLAYS

Believed to Remind Nazi Leader that 8,000,000 More Stand on Italian Side of Brenner Pass

ROME, May 6.—(UP)—Sixty thousand men and boys of the Italian army and the fascist party marched along the Via Triumphalis today in honor of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany, partner in the Rome-Berlin axis.

It was the second of three gigantic displays of the revived Italian fighting services, staged to impress to the greatest possible degree the colleague and guest of Premier Benito Mussolini—perhaps to remind him that these men and eight millions more stand on the Italian side of the Brenner pass.

The first display was given yesterday, a review of more than 200 Italian warships. The third will come tomorrow, with a demonstration by 300 war planes which will drop live bombs and fire their machine guns at dummy targets.

The 60,000 men and boys of today's parade, the pick of the army, the native corps of Africa, the fascist military and the semi-militarized units of fascist youth organizations, marched in the footsteps of the Roman legions of the Caesars, who on their return from their triumphs, paraded along the Via Triumphalis and under the arch of Constantine, dragging in chains the barbarian kings and chieftains they had captured in battle.

Four hundred siege and field guns, 200 trench mortars, 400 light and heavy tanks, 600 motor trucks, 350 armored cars were only part of a three hour parade by the army and fascist units which Hitler, with King Victor Emmanuel at his right and Mussolini at his left, reviewed from a Roman-type stand near the triumphal arch which Constantine erected after his victory over Maxentius at Saca Rubra in 312, where he declared himself in favor of christianity.

Hitler, the king and the fascist Duce rode horseback from Mussolini's Venice palace to the reviewing stand, attended by their entourages, and watched anxiously by secret police operatives.

Mussolini's pride was obvious as he watched the effect of the parade on his German Nazi guest. It was one of the greatest parades of modern times, as yesterday's naval review had been the largest since the World war.

Although Manion has not announced his candidacy, a delegation of 24 persons headed by Mayor William E. Dress of Evansville called upon Gov. M. Clifford Townsend and asked the Democratic administration to throw its support behind Manion in the state nominating convention.

Townsend did not commit himself to any candidate but the delegation said their suggestion was "graciously received."

The Governor later said that "I told them I was glad to receive suggestions. The race is wide open and I regard Mr. Manion as a good Democrat."

WHOLESALE GROCERY WAS ENTERED AGAIN

BURGLAR ALARM FRIGHTENS INTRUDER AT TREMBLY AND WILLIAMS.

BERKELY WATSON SAW MAN

State and Local Police Trace Him to Barnaby Mill Yard; Apparently Injured.

Again, early this morning, the Trembly-Williams wholesale grocery house on north Jackson street was forcibly entered by a burglar and, again, the intruder escaped from the building, after the burglar alarm had given the alarm. The escape this time, as was true in the last effort to rob the place, was made with police and citizens surrounding the building.

This time, Berkely Watson, night policeman, looking through the front doors of the building, saw the burglar attempting to open the steel door of the vault on the lower floor and he could have reached the man with a bullet, he said, if it had not been for the necessity of shooting through the glass in two doors, which he believed he could not do with sufficient accuracy to hit the man. He is backed up in that opinion by other officers. They state the bullet would have been disintegrated by the two thicknesses of glass.

Watson was called by residents of the neighborhood when they heard the alarm bell ringing. He first went to the front door, and, when he looked into the interior of the building through the doors, he saw the man, and, at that moment the man also saw the police officer. The man darted toward the rear of the building, and Mr. Watson hurried to the rear, on the outside, to prevent escape through the opening by which entrance had been effected. Evidently seeing the officer at the rear, the man inside ran to the front again, and, it is evident, he leaped through the glass of the outside door, having opened the inner front door.

Watson at once called Police Chief Lawrence Graham, and the latter called two state police officers. The group of officers trailed the intruder as far as the Barnaby mill yard, toward the east, following the trail by means of particles of glass which fell from the man's person and clothes.

Also, there was indication that the man had been joined by two other men, one apparently a large, tall one and the other shorter and smaller.

The trail was lost in the mill yards, however. The police were of the opinion that the other two men were assisting the third one, the one who was in the building, in his escape. That, they think, is indication he was hurt by the glass as he went through the door.

Entrance to the building was affected through a window on the ground floor.

The vault which the burglar was attempting to enter contains the stock of cigarettes and some other more valuable merchandise. The door showed traces of an effort to force it open, but the attempt was unsuccessful.

Officer Watson is alone up-town during his hours of duty, the other police officer on duty at night having a beat in the south part of the city.

"I FEEL GOOD ALL THE TIME SINCE TAKING RETONGA"

Mrs. Heinrich Says Famous Medicine Made Short Work of Her Troubles.

"I feel good all the time now because all of my health troubles are gone since I took a course of Retonga," declared Mrs. Laura E.

Heinrich, Third Avenue, Morris Hill, suburb of Indianapolis. "The bad effect of sour stomach, constipation, and what seemed like kidney trouble that had continued for a number of years had gotten my whole system in awful condition," continued Mrs. Heinrich. "The burning in my stomach from fermented food, and discomfort from gas formation was bad enough, but the accumulation of toxic poisons had me in pain and misery all over. My back and head ached, I had pains in my muscles, and my knee joints would swell sometimes to almost twice their normal size. Sound sleep was impossible, and I was about at the end of my row, as they say."

"By the time I had finished three bottles of Retonga I could eat anything I wanted. I don't need laxatives now for constipation, and I sleep like a log all night. All the terrible pains have disappeared, the swelling is gone from my knees, and the backaches and headaches are things of the past. I am glad to recommend Retonga because I believe it is a great tonic for the stomach, liver, and kidneys."

You can obtain Retonga at R. P. Mullins Drug Store.—Adv.

REV. CARL SWARTZ GIVES ADDRESS TO ROTARY CLUB

The Rev. Carl Swartz, well known Bloomington minister, addressed the local Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday.

"Kiwanis in Action" was the subject of Rev. Swartz's interesting talk. He discussed the ideals of Kiwanis, but placed special emphasis upon the attitude of Kiwanis, whose motto is "We Serve."

Rev. Swartz is lieutenant-governor of the Seventh Indiana Division of Kiwanis.

AIMS GIVEN

It promotes initiative on the part of the people.

No system of social caste or of classes from which one might not easily escape, has developed here as it has in most undemocratic countries. We do have social classes here. We speak roughly of the upper economic classes, the middle classes, and the lower classes, but the lines are not sharp and distinct. One who has ability and who manages to find opportunity can go from one class to another. It is not to ones discredit that he starts life in poverty. Perhaps the crowning glory of the American democracy is the educational system which it has maintained. It is hard to estimate the meaning and value of our public school system. No where else do the masses of people have an opportunity as complete as in the United States to educate their children and to take advantage of even higher education. We do not have complete educational opportunities in this country, but we have gone a long way in that direction.

How well have the democratic countries handled the economic crisis of the past few years? Many people have thought that under a fascist dictatorship, when a strong hand takes hold and manages things, a country can be steered more safely through a great crisis. The recent record of Italy and Germany on one hand and democratic nations like the United States, Great Britain and France, does not indicate that this is true. The democratic countries are better off today than the fascist countries.

Many friends of democracy have grown pessimistic during recent years, because the tide has seemed turned against democracy and in favor of dictatorship. It is a highly important fact, however, which should not be neglected, that dictatorships have been inaugurated only in nations which have never enjoyed the successful practice of democracy. The Russians, the Italians and the Germans, have had little experience with democracy. They have, during nearly all their history been governed from above. It is further a very significant fact that none of the nations which have had a long and successful experience with democracy have gone over to dictatorship. Democracy still prevails in that mother of democracies, Great Britain, it prevails in the United States, France and the Scandinavian countries, Switzerland and Holland. No other form has made inroads in these nations.

Here is another fact to keep in mind; the democratic nations in which democracy seems today to be most secure, are nations which place ample powers in the hands of its leaders. Great Britain and the United States and a few other countries, have shown that a nation need not have a dictator in order to have strength. In other countries where the government is relatively weak, usually becomes a prey of fascist influences. The great democracies will not fail as a result of communistic or fascist agitation within or without—that is not a present danger. The great danger which the leading democracies now face is that there may come a great economic crisis, like that of a few years ago, or worse than that, and that economic breakdown may result. It is possible that such a thing may happen in either the democracies or the dictatorships, and when economic breakdown becomes severe enough there is always the possibility of chaos and change. But if economic stability can be maintained, the great democracies, including our own, seem strong, and secure.

REDDISH DIVORCE

Carmelita D. Reddish has asked an absolute divorce and the custody of her two small children, 9 and 2 years old, in Circuit Court, from Herman C. Reddish. In the complaint, it is stated they were married July 11, 1927, and separated April 17, 1937; that, on the latter date, in Chicago, the defendant told her he was contemplating removing to California and that he could not maintain their home in Chicago telling her to move to Fillmore with their children, which she did. However, the complaint states, the defendant did not support her and their children in their new home, but is working in Chicago. She claimed he repeatedly told her to secure the divorce. Lyons & Abrams are attorneys for the plaintiff.

JUNGLE PARK SPEEDWAY SET FOR RACES SUNDAY

ROCKVILLE, Ind., May 6.—With most other auto tracks in the middle west still inactive, Promoter Frank Funk reports that he is fairly swamped with racing talent for the opening speed carnival of the season at the Jungle Park Speedway Sunday.

The Jungle Park speed plant is located west of Turkey Run State Park on U. S. Highway 41.

Everett Saylor of Dayton, who was the most popular pilot driving at Jungle Park last year, will be at the wheel of a brand new Vance Special. Saylor is the defending driving champion in the Central States Racing Association and hopes to open the new season with several victories.

Time trials start at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and the opening 10-lap elimination will get in action at 2:30 p. m.

Previews and Reviews AT LOCAL THEATERS

Voncastles

A gifted cast, a clever story and the direction of Ralph Murphy all combine to make the new Lynne Overman - Roscoe Karns picture, "Partners in Crime," which opens Friday at the Voncastles Theatre, a refreshing and original comedy.

"Partners in Crime" a blend of mystery and comedy, is the tale of two voters who try to overcome a crooked city administration and help elect a reform candidate to the mayoralty of their city.

Granada

Clark Gable returns to the screen after his recent triumphal personal appearance tour of the East in "Manhattan Melodrama," in which he is currently co-starring with William Powell and Myrna Loy at the Granada Theatre. Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the picture is a fast-moving story of New York life presenting Gable as a big-shot gambler, powerful and dramatic figure of the city's night life, and Powell as the district attorney, his life-long friend. Miss Loy is the woman between them. The picture is hailed as one of the outstanding screen achievements of the year.

Chateau

Local movie fans have an opportunity to witness something different in the way of westerns. We are referring to Republic Pictures' latest Mesquiteers release, "Call the Mesquiteers," which opens tonight at the Chateau Theatre for a two day stay.

It is a fast-moving action story of the modern west. A ruthless gang of Eastern racketeers come West and commit a series of daring robberies and murder innocent bystanders.

Through a quirk of circumstance, the Three Mesquiteers are blamed for the crimes, and they become fugitives from justice. Police will not to their explanations in attempt to prove their innocence, and in order to prevent arrest, the three punchers seek refuge in a ghost-town.
